

Residual components use the same final-parameter E-step target; sampled EM ascent is unverified.