

Array validation: full frozen candidate families. Stars mark selected settings; boundary flags remain visible. These are validation curves, not test performance.